Civil unrest is what's needed to start a revolution, and civil unrest is what these protests are turning into every night. I love it.

Byron Knight proper location is Washington. Start at the federal level and hold the states accountable. Fear motivates politicians. Surround their houses and demand change. Fear of getting hurt or fear of property damage or fear of getting voted out will make this all happen a lot quicker.

The people most equipped to enact a revolution do not side with what's essentially a race riot that indiscriminantly it destroying small businesses.

Women have been kidnapped, raped, and murdered in this chaos.

I'm not allying with people engaged in that type of behavior.

If comes to cops vs rioters, I know which side will be downrange of me.
